

NEWSTELLER ISSUE 3, FEBRUARY 2014

Tell me a Story Contest!

Join our Contest! Try once to put yourself in the shoes of a tour guide of your own town, and to retell its story from your perspective.

Rules are simple and clear, the only thing that matters is that the stories should be in accordance to the topic and for the best story tellers, prizes will be provided! The contest lasts for 3 months.

The best and relevant stories will be shortlisted and available for voting on the Tell me a Story website. The winning stories will be selected by a competent jury. At the end of each month prizes will be awarded for the best stories.

WE ARE REALLY LOOKING FORWARD TO HEARING YOUR AMAZING CITY STORIES DEAR STORYTELLERS!

Experience the stories

Join us in live on our demonstrational event on the 20th March in Rotterdam. It has the aim to share with the target groups the language approaches and methods extracted and to test the study materials. Each partner will bring representatives of the target group and stakeholders from its country.

We are awarding 3 first place prizes - Travel and accommodation to one of the Tell Me A Story events in different European cities.

The authors of all the stories published on the website will be awarded the Tell Me A Story book!

The demonstrational event will all start with a lunch at The Ballentent – one of the Tell Me A Story' objects. Following the stories, we will continue the tour with a local guide.

Later on at the city library we will have the project presented by the coordinator herself – Mrs. Reneta Palova. And don't miss out the performance by Herco Kruik - a freelance writer, publisher and city guide in Rotterdam. He introduced his own Rotterdam city tour about the many nicknames the people from Rotterdam make up for their streets, buildings, bridges, art objects etc. He has a collection of nearly 1500 nicknames and will be telling about this popular phenomenon in Rotterdam. And in the end there will be a short quiz about the city.
